Some lawyers have the courage to open a solo practice. A law firm other lawyers start a law firm with one or two other lawyers they know and trust. There is strength in numbers. It is appealing to young lawyers in particular to have a law school classmate or fellow associate nearby for support. Others establish an affiliation with an existing firm. Sometimes a lawyer needs another lawyer to brainstorm and bounce ideas around deciding whether to start a law firm. It is a tough decision. You gain the freedom described above, but you lose the security of working for an established firm as an associate. However, in the short run a young lawyer likes the security of knowing a paycheck is coming twice a month. But all private practice lawyers ultimately realize that they eat what they kill.
