From Dream to Action

2021-01-01

The ubiquitous presence of imaginative work points at its importance among the higher mental functions. This collective volume discusses both the social relevance of imagination that cannot be reduced to an inter individual feature and the cultural historical conditions of imagining. The authors develop different theoretical and empirical works in which imagining, planning, anticipating, remembering, and acting are put in relation with crucial moments of human existence as early as birth and even after death. The proposal of this volume emerged during a kitchen seminar session at the III International Seminar of Cultural Psychology in Salvador da Bahia, Brazil 2017. The debate revolved around the imaginative capability of human beings and the possibilities to investigate this phenomenon in a new key. The awareness that an innovative theoretical and empirical contribution was needed to the understanding of imaginative phenomena in everyday life led to the proposal of the book. From dream to action, imagination and impossible futures the book aims to talk to different audiences: psychologists, sociologists, artists, teachers, and healthcare professionals addressing a variety of life experiences such as imagining alternative futures when facing a terminal illness, an adoption, a transplant waiting list, or the choice to give up your musical instrument. Mobilize multiple dimensions of human psyche from the basic emotions to the more sophisticated higher mental functions; the constant effort is to understand the psychological and sociocultural dynamics of each event and to contribute to the understanding of human imagining in the area of semiotic cultural psychology dialoguing with contributions from all the human and social sciences.

The Making of a Postsecular Society

2016-03-03

drawing on the thought of Durkheim, this volume focuses on societal changes at the symbolic level to develop a new conceptualization of the emergence of postsecular societies. Neo-Durkheimian categories are applied to the case of Turkey, which in recent years has shifted from a strong Republican and Kemalist view of secularism to a more Anglo-Saxon perspective. Turkish society thus constitutes an interesting case that blurs modernist distinctions between the secular and the religious, and which could be described as postsecular. Presenting three symbolic case studies - the enduring image of the founder of the Republic Atatürk, the contested site of Ayasofia, and the remembering and commemoration of the murdered journalist Hrant Dink - this book sheds light on the possibilities for Europe to find new ways of arranging the relationship between the secular and the religious. It will appeal to scholars of social theory, the sociology of religion, secularization and religious difference, and social change.
